
OKLAHOMA CENTER for CONSUMER & PATIENT SAFETY

6539 EAST 31ST STREET, SUITE 11, TULSA, OK 74145

December 20, 2005

Dear Friend,

It's a simple fact: most consumers and patients usually don't have the time or knowledge to focus on issues that could affect their safety. When an adverse situation does occur, they don't always know how to fix the problem or where to turn for help.

It is my pleasure to announce the formation of the Oklahoma Center for Consumer and Patient Safety. The Center's mission is to produce and disseminate timely and informative analysis and information on public policy issues which impact consumer and patient safety. Such public policy issues include but are not limited to decisions that affect consumer's daily lives in the marketplace and workplace, empowering individuals to make informed health choices, enhanced quality of service in hospitals, and how to become a patient advocate.

The Center is engaged in raising public awareness and fostering communication on issues, policies, and legislation that threaten consumer or patient safety. The Center will fight to make sure the voices of consumers and patients are heard in Oklahoma City and Washington. We will work to educate and provide tools to our citizens, communities, friends, and neighbors as we advocate for the rights and safety of consumers and patients.

The Oklahoma Center Consumer and Patient Safety is an incorporated non-profit organization funded by private donations from concerned citizens such as you who are concerned with consumer and patient safety issues. The Center is non-partisan and hopes to inspire discussion on both sides of the political landscape as to how we as a state and country better govern ourselves. We do not endorse candidates and are issue-oriented. It is our goal to provide an avenue to ask big questions that lead to big solutions.

If you have any questions or would like more information on the Center, please don't hesitate to call, our phone number is 800-994-6025. You can also find more information at www.okccps.org
